Türkiye Health Care Quality and Accreditation Institute (TÜSKA) is an institute affiliated with the Health Institutes of Türkiye (TÜSEB). TÜSKA is a leading institution in establishing high standards in healthcare services, supporting accreditation processes, and ensuring continuous improvement in service delivery. TÜSKA carries out quality and accreditation activities both nationally and internationally.

TÜSKA is an institutional member of ISQua (The International Society for Quality in Healthcare), which is the umbrella organization for quality and accreditation activities and the accreditor of accreditors. TÜSKA's healthcare accreditation standards and its surveyor training program are accredited by ISQua.

With its competent team and experienced surveyors, TÜSKA carries out activities in various areas including quality management, development of accreditation standards, implementation of evaluation and certification processes, as well as guidance and training. The primary aim of TÜSKA is to enhance service quality in healthcare institutions, improve professional competencies, and ensure the safety of both patients and healthcare workers at the highest level.

TÜSKA's mission is to promote quality and accreditation in healthcare through evidence-based and collaborative approaches and to support continuous improvement. Its vision is to be a nationally and internationally recognized leading institution that ensures trust in these areas. With its innovative health policies, strong healthcare infrastructure, and robust accreditation system, Türkiye stands out globally. TÜSKA plays a central role in these developments, contributing significantly.

Türkiye is not only a bridge between Asia and Europe but also a meeting point of knowledge, experience, and vision. As a part of this, TÜSKA is committed to enhancing healthcare quality assurance, strengthening national and international collaborations, and shaping the future of global healthcare services.
